Subject: Spring 2020 OCI 1 & OCI 2 Delivered via Virtual Platform

Dear Spring 2020 OCI 1 (NURS 502) & OCI 2 (NURS 601) Students,

In line with the University's messaging around coronavirus, the MSN-FNP program will conduct its Spring 2020 on-campus intensive (OCI) student experiences virtually. This decision was made with concern for the wellbeing of our students, faculty, and staff.

Please do not travel to USC for the OCI weekend. The MSN-FNP program will provide the OCI experiences virtually during the two days set aside for the OCI, from Friday, April 17 – Saturday, April 18, 2020.

Please rest assured the virtual learning experiences will be as similar as possible to the in-person OCI experience. Additional information about how to access your OCI training and testing will be forthcoming.

For information regarding new developments and travel restrictions, please visit the University's coronavirus website.

For frequently asked questions related to COVID-19, please visit the University's frequently asked questions website.

Thank you for your flexibility with this necessary change of plans.
