

SOCIAL WORK ADMINISTRATION

The Social Work Administration graduate certificate is designed to offer an understanding of current laws and practices that impact social work.

The USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck School of Social Work and USC Gould School of Law offer an online graduate certificate in Social Work Administration, providing an introduction to the U.S. legal system and deeper understanding of the intersection between law and social work administration.

What is the Social Work Administration graduate certificate at USC?

This certificate is geared toward students who currently work, or aspire to work, in administrative and leadership positions within the field of social work or in social service agencies. Students will explore the legal framework and regulations around social work in the United States.

The Social Work Administration certificate is available to Master of Social Work students, Master of Studies in Law students and graduate students or employed professionals from other disciplines.
