

TELEBEHAVIORAL HEALTH PRACTICE

The graduate certificate in Telebehavioral Health Practice focuses on enhancing knowledge of policy, legal, ethical and empirical issues relevant to telebehavioral practice.

Given the rising demand for telehealth services, providers must be prepared to respond to this need. The Telebehavioral Health Practice graduate certificate is designed to address the necessary skills for providing virtual mental health and behavioral health services.

Offering a blend of instruction, discussion and experiential learning, students in this certificate course will build a thorough understanding of the elements that are critical to providing exceptional telebehavioral health services. Course work includes digital literacy, assessment, treatment planning and intervention. Through a social justice lens, this certificate also addresses accessibility for underserved populations and barriers to mental health treatment.

The Telebehavioral Health Practice certificate is available to all Master of Social Work students (on-campus and online options), and graduate students or employed professionals from other disciplines.

LEARN MORE

What to expect in the Telebehavioral Health Practice certificate and required courses.

APPLY NOW

Complete the application form.

TELEBEHAVIORAL HEALTH PRACTICE FACULTY LEAD

Sarah Caliboso-Soto

Associate Teaching Professor, Practicum Education

Assistant Director, Clinical Programs

scalibos@usc.edu

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

USC Suzanne Dworak-Peck
School of Social Work